

Agreement for the Use of Student Work

This agreement is pertinent to the Digital Story iMovie project created at Wright State University faculty development class during the 2007 Winter quarter for TLT 670 Digital Stories where Sheri Stover was the instructor. I warrant that I am sole creator(s) and owner(s) of the work created in the class listed above and I irrevocably grant Wright State University and the instructor listed above to the rights to use these student works without charge for educational purposes. I understand that I/we retain full ownership to the work, including all copyright interests other than those granted herein to Wright State University. I/we attest that any copyrighted material incorporated in this Work is used with permission. This agreement shall take effect on the day and year on which this agreement was signed, and shall continue in perpetuity.
